EXECUTIVE MANSION, July 4, 2:45 p. m. The attending physinians continue to express a hopeful opinion of the President's case. Peritonitis has not supervened as yet and there are no more indications of it than there were this meraing. The condition of the patient, therefore, although critical, is no worse than was to be expected.

The Sperctary of State has just sent the fol lowing telegram to the Hop. Amps Townsed : "To Hoo. Amos Townsend, Cleveland, Onio: The President's condition has not materially changed since morning. [Signed] THE LADIES OF RICHMOND. WHITE House July 4.—The following tele-gram has been received by Mrs. A. F. Rockwell: Riverdate, N. Y., July 3.

Mrs. A. F. Rockwell, Executive Manston:

(For Mrs. Gardeld.) At such a time I will not presume to recall myself to Mrs. Garfield by directly addressing her. Yet I cannot remain silent May I not hope, Madama, that though your courtesy and good judgment the aill cled lady may receive the assurances of my heartfelt sympathy and earnest prayers for the welfare of her and hers. Of course, hundreds are at hand to render all great services for the patient, but if I can aid in even the most trivial way, command me, I entreat you And, dear Madame, believe me most respectfully.

(Signed) CLARA MORRIS.

A telegram of condolence has just been re onved from the King of Roumania.

Executive Manston, July 4 - President Garfield's mother is now with her daughter, Mrs. Lyrabos, at Bolon, Onio, owing to the recent death of Thomas Garfield, the President's uncle. The news of the President's assassiation was not broken to the old only until Sunday morning. A telegram received by a momber of the family to-day atsies that when the sad news was impacted to her, the old lady very calmly remarked, "God help me!" This was all she said at the time. Since, then, however, more encouraging news has been forwarded re-garding the President's condition.

FROM WASHINGTON. Special Correspondence of the Alexa, Gazette WASHINGTON, D. C., July 4, 1881. Of course, as on Saturday and yesterday, the absorbing and engrossing, and in fact sele, topic of conversion here to day, is the recent terrible tragedy and its probable and possible consebuildings, the closing of the departments and dris, Vo. other public offices and most of the stores, and BELLEVUE HIGH SCHOOL Bedford County, Virgini the occasional explosion of a fire craker in some out of the way place, the "glorious fourth" is of Lyrchburg. Young men and boys prepared the builette boards in front of the newspaper offices, are pretty wall crowded, but with these exceptions and that of the immediate neighborhood of the White House, the city is exceeding y quiet. At half must one o'c'ock this at-ternoon the President's pulse had fatten to 108. and his condition was said to be more favorable, but as on Sainrday, thes: most familiar with gun shot wounds have no hopes of his recovery. His pains are relieved by the hyperdermic ad ministration of morphice, and consequently he is drowsy, and sametimes parrie unconscious. His condition new and from the first has been in the hands of Providerer, and no surgeon or physician, no matter how accomplished or skilful, could have bettered it. Dr. Agnew left for his home to day, having privately, at the request of the President's family, given his disguesis of the case, which is as follows : "Kidney and stemich unic jured; liver lacorated; the pains in the i.g. and feet esused by the injury of the nerves issuing from the spinsl column." The technic l' disesse from which the President suffers is peritocotis, which is inflammation of the membrane that lines the whole abdominal cavity and covers all i a contents. It is the same that proves so tatal in women in cases of bung ling operations for abortion. The peritoneum, the anatomical name of the membrane referred to, is very extensive, and as inflammation of one part of it almost accessarily involves the whole, the danger needs only to be mentioned to be seen. One of the symptoms of the disease is ympanies, which is gas generated by the it flammation, and which, having no means of exit, as that concrated in the stomach has, distends the abdomes used it is sometimes as tense as a dram-head. It is to remedy this that Dr. Simus has telegraphed from Parts recommending a practure of the abdomen, this would accessarily ieffet another wound of the same membrane. Jim Fisk and from a somewhat similar wound, and he hwed a day or two, or probably more, after receiving it, and as the President was a s roug, vig coursed healthy man he may prob ably last a day or two longer. There is simo talk about convening an extra session of the Senate, to elect a President of that body, in the probable event of equal number of votes in the Senate. Bat no matter whether an extra session be called or not, or when it shall be called, or whether the New York Legislature el.e's Senators, or who it may elect, in case the President dies the republicans will have lost control of the Senate, and General Mahone will be even less influed ual than ne was at the list session. DISEASES. What the Medical Profession Say About It. and the Good Results Attending Its Use in Headache. Neuralgia Indigestion, Sleep. lessness, Nervousness and Paralysis,

Celery has only come into public notice withn the last few years as a nervine, but scientific experiments and experience have proved beyond a doubt that it controls Nervous Irritation and periodic Nervous and Sick Headache to a marked degree. Brown-Sequard tays that Celery contains more nerve food than any other vegetable or substance found in nature. Orlery was first discovered and used as a nervine by French physicians about 1837. But a combination of the EXTRACT OF CELERY AND CHAMOMILE, which has been but recently introduced to the protession and the public by Dr. C. W. Benson, has pro-

due of such marvelous results in curing nervous-ness and headaches, and especially nervous and sick headaches, neuralgia, paralysis, indigestion and sleeplessness, that it has excited public attention and newspaper comments, and many physicians have tested the merits of this preparation with the best results, as quoted below from

CABD—It should be generally known that persons so unfortunate as to lose one or more of their teeth need not wait weeks and months for artificial substitutes and endure inconvenience, disagreeable changes in voice, fa-cial expression, &c., but may have artificial teeth made before and inserted immediately af-ter extraction of their natural teeth. By this mode a better adaptation, a more pleasant ex-pression and a nearer approach toward preserving the natural harmony of the features are ec-cured, and very much of the pain and difficulty experienced in learning to use teeth are also avoided. I have practiced this mode successfully for seven years, and having introduced it here, would be glad to refer any one interested to pa-tients who know of it from experience. In treating the natural teeth my object is to preserve every one that time, patience and modern methods of treatment can save. The use of arsenic in destroying exposed nerves is condemned by the more enlightened of the dental profession on account of its turning teeth dark, inducing abscess and finally the ioss of the teeth. The nerve pulp, which is the source of life to the touth, should always be treated, when exposed, with a
